ANNUAL Income of John D. Rockefeller.

Placed By Friends at One Hundred Millions Of Dollars.

Whole Safe Filled With Securities That He and His Secretaries Only Know Of.

New York, Nov. 22.—The News publishes the following. John D. Rockefeller is reputed to be the richest man in the world, and from incomplete figures, gathered from many sources, and with allowances made for exaggerations, there is every reason to believe that this contention is true.

Mr. Rockefeller's income is said by his friends to be $100,000,000 a year. The figures that have been gathered shows an income of about $67,332,000. As Mr. Rockefeller is very secretive about his own affairs it is hard to get any more than an estimate of his holdings.

For instance, it was discovered only by accident that his $3,000 shares of preferred stock of the United States Steel Corporation were carried in the name of one of his private secretaries. Many of the companies in the list given are controlled by Mr. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil absolutely. Mr. Rockefeller owning $40,000,000 of the $101,000,000 of the stock of the company. In the last three years from this one company he has received in dividends $55,000,000.

Mr. Rockefeller is known to hold $5,000,000 of the securities of the New York Central, and his holdings in this company have led to the report that he was strong enough to force the Vanderbilts to cease their fight to keep the Washburn, the Goulds' leading property, out of the Eastern railroad field.

Of the companies mentioned in the list above Mr. Rockefeller controls absolutely the M. & T. road, the St. Paul, Amalgamated Copper, Anaconda Copper, American Lumber, Brooklyn Union Gas and Union Pacific. In addition he is a holder of stock in nearly every bank in New York. Either he or his brother or son, or James Stillman, his right-hand man, is a director in many of them, as for instance, the National City, Lincoln National, United States Trust, Produce Exchange Trust and others.

Mr. Rockefeller is said to have a whole lot full of mining securities that he and his private secretaries only know of. With as much known as is shown in the list here given it is easy to see that his income may well exceed the $100,000,000 limit placed on it by his friends and associates.

Very Scarce.

As had been predicted, hunters have found since the hunting season has opened birds to be even scarcer than was at first indicated and some of the most successful and enthusiastic local sportsmen have, after the First few days' trial given it up that the bird season is a failure this year and that the effort required in hunting out the few scattered coveys in this locality is not paid by the results.

Various causes are held as responsible for the absence of the usual number of quails this season, the principal one being the heavy sleet and severe weather of last winter, which it is argued killed out many of the old birds. It is a pity that the real sportsmen of the state cannot succeed in inducing the legislature to pass some kind of game law to more effectively protect the quail, which is about the only game bird left in Kentucky and which is under the present conditions, rapidly becoming exterminated.

The Chattanooga Advertising.
The Chattanooga Medicine Company with laboratories and general offices at Chattanooga, Tennessee, and branch houses at St. Louis, Mo., and San Francisco, Cal., has become one of the largest proprietary medicine concerns in the world. In the growth of this great business two factors have been dominant: The merit of its products—Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught—has been widely recognized and the original advertising methods adopted have excited great comment. The publicity for these medicines does not consist of the catch phrase and extravagant statement, too often employed in advertising to-day, but instead the plain story of experience with the medicines given in the plain language of the people themselves. The following letter is a fair sample of the thousands of Wine of Cardui testimonials published during the past twenty years:

2608 Eastern Avenue.
Cincinnati, O., May 20, 1902.
I consider Wine of Cardui a most excellent woman's remedy. It is certainly a specific as a tonic and regulator. For eight years I suffered with female trouble. I had intense pain in the back and head, leaving me so weak that I was unable to stand at times. Medicine did not seem to help me, but after all remedies had failed me Wine of Cardui proved my one great, true friend. What a relief I experienced! It came only a few days after I started taking it. I used it faithfully for four months and gradually grew stronger and better. I am now regular to the day and for the past two years have enjoyed blessed good health. I certainly wish every sick and suffering woman could know of your blessed medicine, how much pain and suffering it would prevent, and what a difference it would make in thousands of homes where there is sickness and sorrow to-day, if they had Wine of Cardui it would bring relief and joy instead.

Higher Wages for Trainmen.
Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 22.—At a conference in this city between General Manager William Cotter, of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad, and committee representing the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the former granted an increase of three and four cents per hour in the pay of switchmen employed by that railroad in Little Rock.

Quick Inference.

Old Citizen Dead.
Mt. Olive, Ky., Nov. 24.—Mrs. John McGurie, one of the oldest citizens of this county, is dead, at the age of ninety.

Revival Stopped.
Auburn, Ky., Nov. 24.—The protracted meeting in progress at the Cumberland Presbyterian church has been abandoned, owing to the recent scare of smallpox.

Look at the Date
On your label and you can readily calculate how much you are owing on your subscription. It may seem a very small item to each one in arrears, but the sum total amounts to a considerable sum, and we need it in our business. Don't put it off, but pay it.

THIS AND THAT.

After taking up a collection of $940 to finish paying for a church down in a valley town, the choir arose and sang, "Jesus Paid It All," whereupon some irreverent but long-suffering money changer in the temple got up, suggested if they felt that way about it, reiterate the minister might make a light draft on the same place for his salary.

Honor the dear old mother. Time has scattered snowflakes on her hair and deep furrows on her cheeks, but she is sweet and beautiful now. Her lips are thin and shrunken, but they are the sweetest lips in the world. Her eye is dim yet it glows with a soft radiance that never fades.

Yes she is a dear old mother. The sands of life are nearly run out, but feebly as she is, she will go farther and reach down lower for you than any other person on earth. You cannot enter a prison whose bars will keep her out. You can never mount a scaffold too high for her to reach that she may bless you, in evidence of her deathless love. When the world shall despise and forsake you—when it leaves you by the wayside to die unnoticed—the dear old mother will gather you in her feeble arms and carry you home and tell you all your virtues, until you almost forget that your soul is disgraced by vice. Love her tenderly and cheer her last years with joy.

An exchange tells of a boy who grew up to manhood without seeing a woman. But in the course of events he saw one of the angelic creatures. "What is that father?" asked the young man. "That my son, is a woman," said the father, and the very next words the young man uttered were: "Father, I want one of them things."

Artistic Monuments

COST NO MORE THAN PLAIN ONES IN White Bronze.
Marble is entirely out of date. Granite soon gets moss-grown, discolored, requires constant expense and care, and eventually crumbles back to Mother Earth. Besides, it is very expensive. White Bronze is strictly everlasting. It cannot crumble with the action of frost. Moss growth is an impossibility. It is more artistic than any stone. Then why not investigate? It has been adopted for nearly one hundred public monuments and by thousands of delighted customers in all parts of the country. It has been on the market over 25 years and is an established success. Many granite dealers have bought White Bronze for their own burial plots. We have hundreds of beautiful designs of all grades of work, and want to have you see them if you are interested in a monument, headstone, marker or grave-cover. On receipt of a postal card will be pleased to call with designs and sample of White Bronze.

Yours truly,
